

No...The Flu Season is NOT over!

Dear Health Enthusiast :

“No...The Flu Season is NOT over!”

By Patricia Keplinger RN BSN and Chris Ritchason

Most individuals assume that we are coming to the end of flu season...well, that assumption is totally incorrect! As the daffodils are blooming in the Midwest, so is the influenza virus nationwide. Many parts of the United States are dealing with epidemic or near-epidemic proportions of Influenza. These statistics mean that over 50% of the general population is being affected in some way, shape or form according to the Center's For Disease Control in Atlanta, GA.

It is imperative to note that the statistics appearing around the country about the number of influenza cases is not completely accurate - in our estimation it could be quite low. It has been our experience that on many occasions a person would present at the medical doctor's office, clinic, or the hospital with CLASSIC influenza symptoms only to be told that the flu test was not necessary, their symptoms treated, and an accurate diagnosis was not obtained. But instead, a calculated guess on the part of the practitioner and not objective data based on the test for influenza.

With the headlines of some of the nation's largest newspapers and magazines reading “What You Need to Know About Drug-Resistant Flu,” it is becoming increasingly more common knowledge that Tamiflu is not as effective in treating the influenza outbreak as it was expected to be. “Virtually all cases of the most common strain of flu circulating in the United States now resist the main drug used to treat it, the U.S. Center's for Disease Control and Prevention reported...(1).”

According to Dr. Gordon Pedersen, there was a remote chance that not all persons would achieve relief with prescription TAMIFLU. But, he stated that taking the Silver Shield with aqua sol technology preparation twice daily was the best insurance against the impending pandemic. Published in August 2008, Dr. Pedersen et.al. published a study discussing the effect of prophylactic treatment with a Silver Aqua Sol product on an Avian Influenza A (H5N1) Virus Infection in mice. This study concluded that it “...is strongly suggestive a disease-inhibitory effect may have occurred...” within strongly suggestive a disease-inhibitory effect may have occurred...” within the mice that were injected with this deadly virus. Even though this study was preliminary in nature, it is indicative that NSP has an amazing product, Silver Shield with Aqua Sol Technology, to assist in protecting ones’ self and their families from this pandemic.
